Editor's Notes: 12 new members. WE continue to grow, largely though the efforts of our membership. We are a fun club on the occasions when we can physically get together, and I think the Rag Picker keeps us aware of what people are doing.

A plug for the Central States Show coming up in Milwaukee in April 1999: There will, as always at Central States, be a lot of paper money...a lot of the big time dealers with great inventory. Also, if you've ever thought about exhibiting this is the Show to visit. Great prizes and special privileges as well. Write me for details if you're if you're interested.

A special thanks for Doug Walcutt's continuing saga on Nationals. This issue includes more information from Doug Murray on WEB issues. If you have something to share, drop us a line so we can put it out to the membership. As an example, I am currently working on an original 13 colony set of colonial currency. I think there is an article in the exhibit. What excites you about our hobby?

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE:

Wally is on the go, but we got a chance to talk at the Michigan State Show. He is currently in the process of auctioning his Seated dollars through Bowers and his Fractional collection...missing only a few Friedberg numbers, via Currency Auctions of America at the FUN Show. If you get to the Show, look at Wally's notes...he has some dandies. He is doing a lot of development work and building a condo, so his high energy level is still at work.

We met at the MSNS Show and Bob Hatfield kindly took minutes. The meeting started at 2:30, Saturday in the Cord Room of the Regency Hyatt in Dearborn, MI. Present were Dr. Wallace Lee, Bob Hatfield, Florence Schook, Doug Murray, John Wilson, Dan Freeland, Bill Herzog, Bill Brandimore, Robert Azpiazi, Chuck Fenwick, Al Bobrofski and a few unreported visitors. Dr. Lee began by reminding everyone that PMCM will co-host with Lincoln coin Club at the Fall 1999 MSNS Convention and we need workers. Florence Schook volunteered to chair our activities. Comments switched to the recent Smythe auction of Chuck Fenwick's material and how they handled certain lots. While Chuck was pleased with the overall results, he felt certain "collector lots" could have been handled better. Doc Lee mentioned that all his Seated Dollars will be handled through Bowers and Marena at a very good rate. Florence mentioned that the Long Beach Show will be going to Las Vegas in the near future, Vegas is becoming more than just a gambling spot. John Wilson noted that the ANA is looking for any comments on how they can retain "new" members and he also said that ANA business matters are improving and that many of the "problems" are being handled by the ANA's insurance policy or were proceeding under legal advice. Wilson invited everyone to the ANA's 1999 Convention in Chicago. Our Traveling Plaque was awarded to Nancy Wilson for her splendid Paper Money exhibit...a type set of large size U.S. $2...in superb condition...congratulations. She also won first in U.S. Paper Money; Bill Brandimore took second place and Chuck Fenwick won 1st place in foreign paper with a wonderful exhibit on Queen Elizabeth...including the lovely note issued by the Dominion of Canada when she was a small Princess. The meeting adjourned at 3:10 PM. The Show was a good one with lots of material to choose from and plenty of dealers and customers.

Regards, on his behalf:

Dr. Wallace Lee, President, PMCM.

OUR COVER THIS ISSUE: Is from my colonial collection. It is a Toll Ticket for the Hartford and New Haven, Connecticut, Toll Road and signed by the Road's President. The value of 6 cents and 3 Mills came as close to the 6 1/4 of half a Spanish bit as possible under those units of measurement. The half cent issue would provide a small enough unit of value to discontinue the use of Mills in our currency.

CLUB NEWS: Educational Programs continue to liven up the meetings of the Dallas Coin Club and the Currency Club of Chester County. Some of the upcoming programs in Chester County are Mike Gehman discussing how to start collecting paper money; June 17th. Author Roger Durand will speak on "Obsolete currency." If you haven't seen Roger's books...take a look. He has made an interesting collecting area even more so with his explanation of vignettes found on currency; or the identification of various Indians and politicians found on obsolete currency. I rate then a best buy for your library!

This exchange list is open to all paid up PMCM members who would care to help fellow collectors, as well as themselves, exchange current FRN's. We really need a Chairman. It's not fair to keep depending on Joe Mikolajczyk. He has served his terms and wants to relax a bit. Let me know if you will serve at my Editor' address on the first page.

VARIETIES OF NATIONAL BANK NOTES PART NINETEEN

By Doug Walcutt
© 1998 Doug Walcutt

THE REASSIGNED CHARTER NUMBERS

In 1882, due to the delay in passage of legislation authorizing charter extensions, many of the earliest national banks had to reorganize early in the year and thus lost their very low charter numbers. By 1902, some of these reorganized banks had apparently been lobbying to reacquire the original low charter numbers and formation dates of their predecessor banks. The original Charter 1 bank, "The First National Bank of Philadelphia, PA," was probably the leader in this crusade. The bank was certainly proud of its earlier possession of the lowest charter number. Notice in 1882, the bank did not organize the replacement bank until the actual day of expiration of the original Charter 1 bank.

Ultimately, on June 17, 1902, the Comptroller assigned Charter 1 to the Charter 2731 replacement bank. This was six days after Charter 2731 had extended its charter on June 11, 1902. Also on June 17, 1902, the Comptroller reassigned Charter 48 to Charter 2745, "The First National Bank of Pittsburgh, PA," which had succeeded the earlier Charter 48 bank with the same title. The Charter 2745/48 bank extended its charter the next day, June 18.

1. An Original Series note from the original Charter 1 bank.

The first Series of 1902 issues printed for both of these banks bore the reassigned charter numbers. Since the next reassignment of charters did not occur until 1909, these were the only two banks with low reassigned charter numbers to issue Series of 1902 Red Seals. The respective plate dates on the notes of these banks were their extension dates of June 11, 1902 and June 18, 1902.

2. A Series of 1882 note from Charter 2731 and a bank serial number 1 Series of 1902 Red Seal note from the bank after it reacquired charter number 1. (Photo courtesy of R.A. Kvederas)

All that these and the following banks got back was the low charter numbers of their predecessors. They did not get back the approximate nineteen years of the predecessor bank's corporate life, so very important in an industry where longevity signified stability.

3. A Series of 1882 note from Charter 2745 and a Series of 1902 Red Seal note with the reacquired Charter 48.

The next low charter number reassignments occurred in 1909. They were for Charter 2682/2, "The First National Bank of New Haven, CT," on March 19, for Charter 2693/3 "The First National Bank of Youngstown, OH," on April 6, and for Charter 2727/59, "The First National Bank of Troy, OH," on April 30. For these three banks, the plate date on new notes with the low charter number, was the date of reassignment.

4. Series of 1902 Blue Seal Date Backs from Charter 2 and Charter 59, with the reacquired low charter numbers and 1909 plate dates.

Beginning in 1910, another twenty-four banks reacquired the charter numbers of their predecessors. The first of these reacquisitions occurred on February 23, 1910, for Charter 2703/5, "The First National Bank of Fremont, OH." In this instance, and for all subsequent reacquisitions of earlier low charter numbers, the new plate dates would be the same 1902 charter-extension dates that had appeared on the high-charter-number notes.

5. Series of 1902 Blue Seal Date Backs from Charter 2690 and the reacquired Charter 7, both with the same April 13, 1902 plate date.

Most reacquisitions took place in 1910 and 1911. There were six in 1910, fourteen in 1911, one in 1912, two in 1913, one in 1917, and one in 1927. On April 11, 1917, the last charter number reacquisition for a bank forced to liquidate in 1882 (on June 1), because its original charter expired, occurred for Charter 2719/153, "The First National Bank of Geneva, OH."

There was also one charter number reacquisition in 1927. This did not involve a bank that was forced to liquidate in 1882. On August 7, 1912, Charter 1669, "The Fourth National Bank of Nashville, TN," acquired Charter 150, "The First National Bank of Nashville, TN," and changed its title to "Fourth and First National Bank," under Charter 1669. On July 12, 1927, this bank reacquired Charter number 150, and continued with the same "Fourth and First" title

One of the 1913 reacquisitions, Charter 2798/20, "The Fifth-Third National Bank of Cincinnati, OH," involved a truly unusual procedure. Charter 20 had been "The Third National Bank of Cincinnati, OH," until succeeded by Charter 2730 with the same title in 1882. Charter 2798 was "The Queen City National Bank of Cincinnati, OH," when organized and chartered in 1882. This bank changed its title to "The Fifth National Bank of Cincinnati, OH," on April 4, 1888. The bank later consolidated with Charter 2730 under the 2798 charter and changed title to "The Fifth-Third National Bank of Cincinnati, OH," on June 2, 1908. Under the provisions of a special Act of Congress, the Fifth-Third reacquired the low Charter 20 from the original Third National on March 5, 1913.

THE "FOURTH ISSUE" NATIONAL BANK NOTES

Beginning with Charter 6100, all banks chartered on or after January 20, 1902 issued only Series of 1902 notes. Charter 6109, "The First National Bank of Swissvale, PA," which had been organized on June 7, 1901, and finally chartered on January 28, 1902, was the earliest bank organized that was chartered after January 20. This bank would have to extend its charter on June 7, 1921, (twenty years after its organization), to stay in business. This was not a problem, as the Act of July 12, 1882, provided for a bank's first twenty-year extension. The Act did, however, require a different issue that was "readily distinguishable from the circulation notes heretofore issued."

By 1921, the Comptroller probably anticipated that pending legislation might soon eliminate the procedure of preparing new designs and new plates and notes for national banks every twenty years for charter extensions. It seems the Comptroller decided by this time, probably with the Secretary of the Treasury's approval, that some minor alterations to the current Series of 1902 plates would meet the requirements of the 1882 Act. Henceforth, the new plates for banks that would be extending after having issued Series of 1902 notes for twenty years, would be similar Series of 1902 plates, but with new plate dates (the dates of extension), with the current Treasury signature combination, and possibly a slightly different type face or layout in part of the bank's title.

These Fourth Issue (commonly called Fourth Charter), plates were prepared only for banks that previously issued Series of 1902 notes and extended by April 30, 1902. There were two exceptions for banks that changed title and extended after this date. This group included all banks that were extending for the first or second time under the Acts of July 12, 1882, or April 12, 1902. In general, these were banks that were formed in 1882 or 1901-02, and had already issued Series of 1902 notes for twenty years.

2. Series of 1902 notes from Charter 6109 and Charter 6100 with the 1921 (extension) plate dates. Both banks had previously issued Series of 1902 notes for their first 20-year issue period.

Banks that received Fourth Issue notes included ten different banks between Charter 2 and Charter 66. These ten were 1882-vintage reorganized successor banks, in the Charter 2664 to Charter 2733 range, that re-acquired the earlier low charter numbers. There were also 1882-vintage banks in the Charter 2657 to Charter 2749 range, and 1901-02-vintage banks in the Charter 6100 to Charter 6649 range that received Fourth Issue notes.

3. A Series of 1902 Red Seal and a Series of 1902 Blue Seal from Charter 2657, with the "Fourth Issue," plate date after the bank's second extension. The bank had previously issued Series of 1875 notes from 1882 to 1902, as illustrated in Part 18.

4. Series of 1902 Blue Seal notes from Charter 11, after the Charter 2701 bank reacquired the low charter number. The second note was issued after the bank changed title in 1917.

5. A Series of 1902 "Fourth Issue" note from Charter 11, after the bank changed title a second time and extended its charter on May 6, 1922. Notice there is no "THE" in the title.

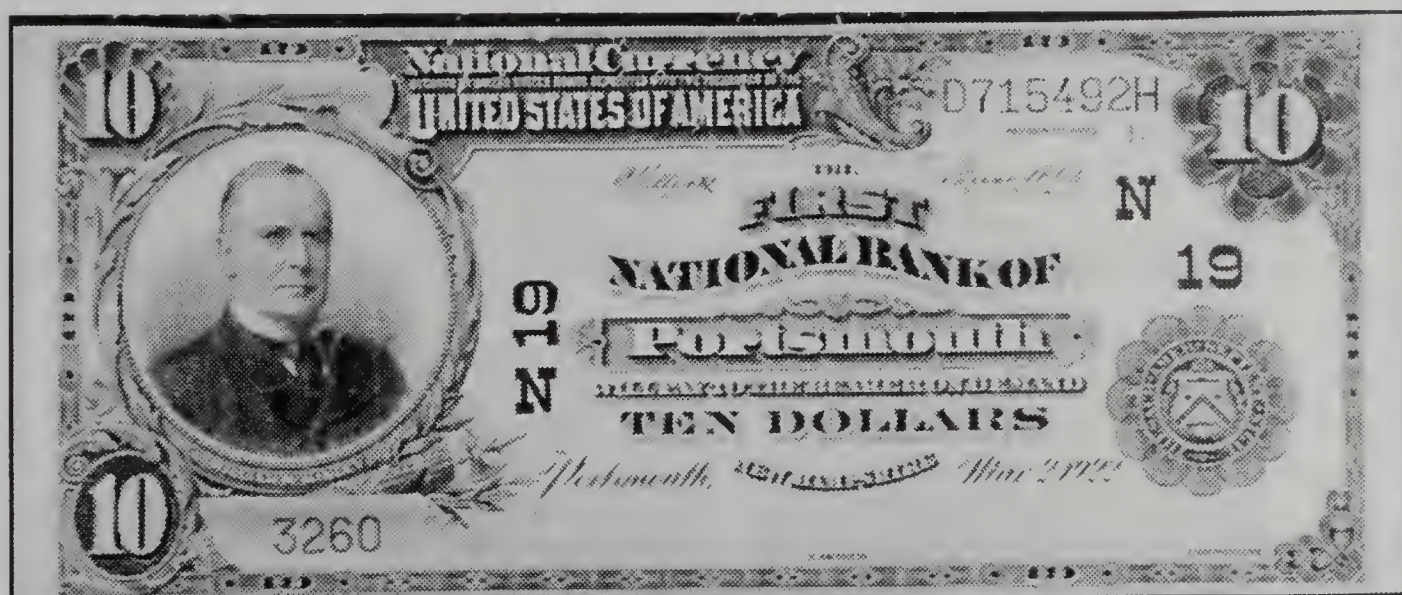

Two banks that extended after April 30, 1922 received these Fourth Issue notes. The first was Charter 11, (formerly Charter 2701, "The First National Bank of Fort Wayne, IN), which changed title from "The First and Hamilton National Bank" to "First National Bank" on January 19, 1922, and then extended its charter on May 6, 1922. The second was Charter 66, (formerly Charter 2733, "The First National of Lyons, IA"), which changed title to "First National Bank of Lyons at Clinton, IA," on June 6, 1922, and then extended the reassigned Charter 66 bank on June 7, 1922.

6. Series of 1902 Blue Seal notes from Charter 66, after the Charter 2733 bank reacquired the low charter number. The second note was issued after the bank changed its title and extended on June 7, 1922.

Notice, most banks in Table 1 have charter numbers in the 6100 to 6200 range, along with a few banks in the 6200 range, and one (Charter 6350, LeRaysville, PA) in the 6300 range. These were banks organized in mid to late 1901 or early 1902, but not chartered until January 20, 1902 or later. All such banks received Series of 1902 notes as their initial issue.

In Table 1 there are a few banks listed in the charter number 2600 to 2700 range. These were banks chartered in 1882 that issued Series of 1875 notes until 1902, and then received Series of 1902 notes beginning in 1902. There was also a small group of banks chartered in 1882 that had initially received Series of 1882 notes and after extension in 1902, received Series of 1902 notes. This group included ten successor banks that re-acquired the low charter numbers of their predecessors between 1909 and 1912. Listed in Table 1, is the earliest bank of this group, Charter 2672/19 "The First National Bank of Portsmouth, NH," which extended a second time on March 2, 1922.

7. A Series of 1902 "Fourth Issue" note from Charter 19.

Remarks: A - Bank issued Series of 1875 notes prior to 1902. B - Bank issued Series of 1882 notes prior to 1902.

The banks that received Fourth Issue notes, with charter numbers of 6100 and up, were banks extending for the first time (under the Act of July 12, 1882). These 1921 and 1922 dated notes were the second issue for such banks. All the other banks that received these Fourth Issue notes had or originally had charter numbers between 2657 and 2749. They extended their charters a second time (under the Act of April 12, 1902) and then received these notes as their third issue. Notice, no bank that received these Fourth Issue notes was in its fourth issue period. Table 1 lists only the earliest banks that extended and issued Fourth Issue notes. There were a total of 161 banks in this group. A complete listing can be found in Peter Huntoon's "United States Large Size National Bank Notes," published in 1995 by the Society of Paper Money Collectors.

8. A Series of 1902 Red Seal with a 1902 plate date and a Blue Seal with a 1922 plate date from Charter 6101.

There were also banks with charter numbers just preceding 2656 and 6100 that extended their charters in 1921 and early 1922. These were banks that had issued Series of 1882 notes until these extensions. The latest extension of a bank in this group was on April 3, 1922 for Charter 2655, "The First National Bank and Trust Company of Corning, NY." These Series of 1902 plates with 1921 and 1922 plate dates are not Fourth Issue plates.

9. Series of 1902 Blue Seal notes from Charter 2655 and Charter 6099.

THE ACT OF JULY 1, 1922

On July 14, 1922, the second extension for Charter 36, "The First National Bank of Findlay, OH," would expire. To save this bank and all the others with impending expirations of their second extensions under the Act of April 12, 1902, new legislation was urgently needed. With little time to spare, Congress passed an act on July 1, 1922, granting automatic ninety-nine year extensions to all existing national banks and ninety-nine year lives to all new national banks. The Act also eliminated all provisions for extensions under the 1882 and 1902 Acts. This removed the need for new plates for a bank after extension. Thus, all plates in use at the time continued to be used without modification, until worn out or superseded.

It is noteworthy, that there were many banks issuing Series of 1902 notes, that extended between May 1, 1922, and July 1, 1922, for which no Fourth Issue plates were prepared. The Comptroller probably anticipated the pending legislation and decided there was no point in preparing plates that would not be needed after the Act passed. There were also a few banks issuing Series of 1902 notes that extended before May 1, 1922, that did not receive any Fourth Issue notes. These banks probably did not order any new notes immediately after these extensions, and when they later ordered new notes the Act of 1922 had passed, eliminating the need for new plates.

CHAP. 257.—An Act To amend section 5136, Revised Statutes of the United States, relating to corporate powers of associations, so as to provide succession thereof for a period of ninety-nine years or until dissolved, and to apply said section as so amended to all national banking associations.

July 1, 1922.
[H. R. 9527.]
[Public, No. 262.]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 5136 of the Revised Statutes of the United States be amended so that the paragraph therein designated as "Second" shall read as follows:

Corporate powers to continue for 99 years.

SEC. 2. That all Acts or parts of Acts providing for the extension of the period of succession of national banking associations for twenty years are hereby repealed, and the provisions of paragraph second of section 5136, Revised Statutes, as herein amended shall apply to all national banking associations now organized and operating under any law of the United States.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Again, I would like to thank my good friend, colleague, and fellow collector, Bob Kvederas, who has critically read the entire text presented in this series. He has offered many helpful suggestions that I believe have made these manuscripts more understandable and readable. I would also like to thank all of those who have provided photos or let me photograph their notes to illustrate this series.
